Independent Proxy Advisory Firms ISS and Glass Lewis Recommend Shareholders Vote "FOR" Both of Mellanox's Best-In-Class Governance Proposals

ISS Concludes Plurality Voting Standard Proposal Increases Likelihood that Shareholders' Preferences Will be Respected

Glass Lewis Notes Universal Proxy Card Adds Clarity and Transparency and Enables Shareholders to Make a More Precise Voting Decision

SUNNYVALE, Calif. & YOKNEAM, Israel--(BUSINESS WIRE)-- Mellanox Technologies, Ltd. (NASDAQ: MLNX), a leading supplier of high-performance, end-to-end smart interconnect solutions for data center servers and storage systems, today announced that independent proxy advisory firms, Institutional Shareholder Services ("ISS") and Glass, Lewis & Co. ("Glass Lewis"), have recommended that Mellanox shareholders vote "FOR" both of the Company's best-in-class governance proposals at the extraordinary general meeting ("EGM") scheduled to be held on May 24, 2018.

In its May 11, 2018 report, ISS stated¹:

"A majority vote standard in uncontested director elections, with a plurality "carve out" for contested elections, is widely regarded as the best practice among U.S.-listed companies...Because the article amendment proposed here will help to ensure that the candidates with the greatest degree of support are elected, even if their support falls short of a majority, the amendment will help to ensure that shareholders' preferences are more accurately reflected. Support for this proposal is warranted."

"The use of a universal proxy card in a contested director election will enable shareholders to choose exactly which nominees they prefer; whether that is the complete slate of management nominees, the complete slate of dissident nominees, or a combination of the two slates in any proportion. Support for this proposal is warranted."

In its May 11, 2018 report, Glass Lewis stated²:

"We agree with the board's rationale that a plurality voting standard is appropriate in the context of a contested election...We recommend that shareholders vote FOR this proposal."

"All other things held equal, we believe a universal proxy can create a more level playing field for the nominees and adds clarity and transparency for shareholders during the voting process...We recommend that shareholders vote FOR this proposal."

Commenting on the ISS and Glass Lewis reports, Mellanox issued the following statement:

"The Mellanox Board is committed to best-in-class governance practices and is taking the necessary steps to align our governance policies with shareholder interests and ensure that the composition of our Board fairly reflects shareholders' intentions. We are pleased ISS and Glass Lewis have recommended that Mellanox shareholders vote "FOR" both of Mellanox's best-in-class governance proposals at the Company's upcoming EGM. These proposals are designed to enhance shareholder choice in a contested election by allowing shareholders to vote for the director candidates who they believe will best guide Mellanox's strategy and success over the long term."

Mellanox reminds shareholders that every vote is important and urges all shareholders to vote "FOR" the Company's best-in-class governance proposals TODAY.
